

Sinclair Broadcasting's decision to force their stations to air Stolen Honor shows the danger of media consolidation.

Their use of the airwaves is a privilege, and it comes with a responsibility to serve the public interest. When they act according to their bottom line rather than public interest, democracy suffers.

Sinclair's actions demonstrate the need for stronger, not weaker media ownership rules. Thank you.